

Journal

Fun! 😊

One morning, you open your drawer and discover that all of your socks have turned into tiny wizards! They are wearing sparkly hats and arguing about an important magical mission.

What spell are they trying to cast?

Why do they need your help?

What silly magic accidents happen along the way?

Does your room (or house!) change because of their magic?

Write 5–6 sentences telling the magical and silly story of what happens next!