Earl Benning Accounting/Business Major Scholarship for a graduating senior $500:

Please write a response that answers the following prompt:
(12pt; Times New Roman, single spaced)

The purpose of a cover letter is to introduce yourself to an organization, show your interest in the company, draw attention to your resume, and motivate the reader to interview you. Often this letter is the first contact you have with a prospective employer. A concise and well-written letter sets you apart from others and is what causes the employer to want to read your resume, and that is the key to getting that interview! Aside from the job or internship search, cover letters are also used to apply for college programs for undergraduates, and in the applications for post-graduate education.

1. Write a cover letter that explains your desire to be accepted into a certain university's accounting or business program. Since cover letters are always personalized, tailor the letter to a specific college (like one you might choose/have chosen!). Use this letter to show why you are the best person to fill their department roster. Keep in mind that this should be in business letter format and not to exceed one page.
2. Attach your actual resume behind the cover letter. (Be sure to include in your resume: service hours and organizations you've volunteered for, business classes taken, work history, GPA. Reference resume formats to be sure you do it correctly.)

Please use a fictitious name in place of your name in the resume and on the cover letter.

Please include your RHS locker number on the top right hand corner of your cover letter.
